AN EARTHLY DELIGHT BOTTEGA TRUFFLE DINNER FOR 14

White truffles are among the rarest, most elusive and sexiest foods to be found. French gourmet, Jean Brillat-Savarin, called truffles "the diamond of the kitchen." Delicate, yet musky and woodsy, there is no other flavor quite like them, which is perhaps why they are so often described simply as heavenly. Their short season—October to December—also adds to their desirability. A dish showered in shaved truffle is delicious, an entire meal with the truffle as star is divine, and just such a meal envisioned and prepared by legendary chef Michael Chiarello is out of this world. Here is your opportunity to experience just that:

- Private truffle-dinner party for 14 in the Enoteca at Bottega Napa Valley in Yountville
- Four courses, from starter through entrée, highlighting this delectable luxury

NOTE: Dinner date based on availability and reservations must be during 2019 truffle season (typically October - December)
